65 FEARED DEAD IN PLANE CRASH

Rush Starts For Primary Candidates

8 From City File, Total Reaches 194 With Deadline Near

The Columbiana County Election Board listed 24 new May 5 primary candidates today, including 8 from East Liverpool, as office-seekers from 8 cities and villages started a last-minute rush to beat the filing deadline this afternoon at 4.

Total filings stood at 194 at mid-morning and Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk of the board, said he believes virtually all of the prospective candidates already have entered. However, there will be a few late-comers in the brief time remaining before the deadline, O'Hanlon predicted.

The list of new entries in East Liverpool was topped by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, who entered for nomination for a second term on the Republican ticket, confirming an announcement he made late last week.

In a surprise local filing, H. A. (Hap) Tullis, incumbent First Ward councilman, entered for the Republican nomination for Council president. He will oppose the incumbent, B. E. Warner, who already has filed.

Only one major local candidate remained unentered this morning. He is Bert H. Goodballe, former Council president, who has announced for the Democratic nomination for mayor.

The other new local candidates are: Vincent C. Laneve of Pickerington St., an employee of the Ohio Valley Gas Co., for the Republican nomination for Third Ward councilman; Rudolph E. Halpate, 414 Walnut St., secretary of the Eagles Lodge, for the Democratic nomination for Council president; Clarence E. Reagle, 1571 Cleveland Ave., an employee of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., for the Democratic nomination for councilman-at-large; Jack L. Fair, 662 Riley Ave., also a Crucible worker, for the Democratic nomination for Second Ward councilman.

Atty. Andrew J. Coleman of Campground Rd., for the Republican nomination for municipal judge, and Harry Wilson, 709 Bradshaw Ave., a former councilman, for the GOP nomination for councilman-at-large.

Two incumbents and a newcomer filed from Wellsville Tuesday afternoon. They are Council President Myron Weis and Councilman Paul A. (Mike) Nelson, a member-at-large, both seeking renomination on the Republican ticket, and Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, seeking the Democratic nomination for city treasurer.

Lower House Passes Bill On Hancock Court

The Hancock County Bar Association's proposal for a separate judicial district for the county sailed over its first big hurdle Tuesday when the House of Delegates passed the bill by an overwhelming majority and sent it to the senate at Charleston.

The legislation—House Bill 102—is expected to face major opposition in the senate, however, but was passed by the House by a 91-6 vote.

Hancock is now in the First Circuit with Brooke and Ohio Counties and has no resident judge. Judge J. Harold Brennan presently serves all three counties, along with another judge.

The bill forwarded to the senate will include a letter to State Sen. Herbert Traubert, outlining the reasons why the county is seeking the new court and bearing the names of officials and lawyers of Chester, New Cumberland and Weirton.

If the senate approves, the First Judicial Circuit of West Virginia will be divided into two divisions, the first comprised of Ohio and Brooke Counties, and the second to be renumbered consisting of only Hancock County.

The bill was first introduced in the lower house by Miss Callie Tsapis, former Chester attorney, who is Hancock's first woman member of the House of Delegates.

Sponsors have pointed to the growing amount of court business in New Cumberland, especially during the regular three sessions in January, April and September. When Judge Brennan is out of the county, litigants and counsel must go to Wheeling on court business.

No New Plans, Dulles Says Of West Policies

Secretary Arrives In London For Talks With Allied Leaders

LONDON (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles flew from Washington today for talks with Allied leaders on Western policy in Germany and elsewhere in Europe.

"I have brought no new proposals," he told reporters at the airport.

"I have come here because I suspect that in coming weeks we will be forced to take difficult decisions pressed on us by the Soviet Union."

"It is vital that the Western nations should understand each other."

After two days of consultations in London, Dulles plans to go on to Paris and Bonn.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd welcomed Dulles at the airport.

Dulles planned to have a quick talk with U.S. Gen. Lauris Norstad, the supreme commander of North Atlantic Alliance forces in Europe, and then meet with Lloyd and Prime Minister Macmillan.

British opinion favors a change in the Western approach which would offer a demonstration of Allied flexibility. There is a strong feeling here that any new Allied proposal to unite Germany will stand a better chance of breaking the East-West deadlock than the often rejected demand for free-all-German elections.

Leaving Washington Tuesday, Dulles told newsmen he hoped to make some progress in arranging a Big Four meeting with Russia on Germany.

Weatherman Finally Finds Freezing Range

The weatherman was a day late in his freezing prediction but the lower temperatures finally arrived with light snow likely to accompany the 18-23 low predicted for tomorrow.

Mild readings of 49 Tuesday afternoon and 35 at 6 a.m. today were due to give way to a high in the mid-20's this afternoon as the new cold spell developed. Some light snow mixed with freezing drizzle had been forecast for this morning, with the light snow tonight and colder with snow flurries Thursday. Last night's rain totaled 0.46 inch of precipitation.

Moisture on some district roads was freezing this morning, making travel hazardous in places, the State Highway Patrol in Lisbon reported.

However, officers said unless there is more rain or snow, the thin layer of moisture would be worn off shortly and roads would be better later in the day.

Warns Of New Taxes

Ike Renews Blast At High Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President first time in the state's history. This, said the President, may be taken as evidence that Americans are beginning to understand they must have consideration for their fellowmen if democracy is to work.

Eisenhower told a news conference he is sure the public does not want tax increases, deficit spending and cheapened dollars—and would stand against excessive spending if the cost thus was made clear in spending bills.

In obvious warning that he plans through appeals to the public to back down—if he can—every high-spending proposal that Congress adopts, Eisenhower said grimly: He means this and he will say it often.

His attack was aimed chiefly at a pending three-billion-dollar housing bill and at Democratic airport spending.

The housing measure is $1,300,000,000 above Eisenhower's budget request, and the Democratic airport aid proposal is 575 million dollars by comparison with 200 million asked by the President.

Eisenhower touched on these other matters in the course of the news conference:

INTEGRATION—He applauded Virginian officials and citizens for this week's reopening of public schools in Norfolk and Arlington County with Negro and white children studying together for the is steadily improving, he added.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Who is going to make the final decision on the abolition of capital punishment in Ohio—the Legislature or the voters?

That question presented itself forcefully Tuesday when Sen. William Baker (D-Montgomery) proposed a constitutional amendment to end Ohio's traditional "an-eye-for-an-eye" policy. If approved by a three-fifths vote of both houses of the Legislature, the proposed amendment would go on the statewide ballot.

This procedure is opposed by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle. The governor recommends abolition of capital punishment, but he believes it is the responsibility of the Legislature to make the decision.

A bill was introduced in the House 10 days ago to abolish the death penalty. If the Legislature adopts the bill, the voters will have no voice in the decision.

Another major legislative development Tuesday was the introduction of a school subsidy bill which would increase state grants

Senate Fight Launched On Housing Bill

Sparkman Predicts Okay For Measure, Approval By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — The year's first floor fight affecting President Eisenhower's budget opens in the Senate today on a $2,925,000,000 Democratic omnibus housing bill.

Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.), author of the measure, told a reporter he was sure he had the votes to hold the measure largely intact. He predicted Eisenhower would sign it.

But Republican leaders, after talking with the President Tuesday, said Eisenhower was quite unhappy about provisions of the measure which would far exceed his budget. They said the possibility of a veto was not discussed but they promised to try to cut the bill closer to administration figures.

On the other side, Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) has pledged a floor fight in an effort to increase the size of some of the programs.

Sparkman's bill is quite similar to one which passed the Senate last year but died in the House in the face of administration opposition. It compares to a $1,650,000,000 proposal of the President this year.

It is designed to meet emergency financing needs of some government housing programs, including an increase in the almost exhausted authority for FHA loan insurance. In addition, it contains major long-range provisions on slum clearance, public housing and a new housing program for the elderly.

Eisenhower had asked action now on the emergency programs, with a delay until later on the long-range provisions.

One major concession to the administration is a provision inserted at the last minute to raise the interest rate on VA-guaranteed loans from 4% to 5% per cent.

MELTING OPERATIONS INCREASED BY CRUCIBLE

With eight open hearth furnaces in operation at the Midland Works, and electric furnaces running at a high rate in the Midland plant and others of the Crucible Steel Co., the firm said at Pittsburgh Tuesday the production in such melting departments is not far from 90 per cent capacity.

Improvement is continuing in all of Crucible's products in the current quarter and a good rate of sales is expected throughout the first half, the company added.

Capital expenditures declined to $4,500,000 during 1958, mostly for regular improvement and maintenance, compared to $16,200,000 in 1957.

"I tried to hold my breath. I was cold. My arms felt frozen." Robert could speak no further. But somehow he knew of the tragedy that had befallen him. His murmurs to attendants made it plain he knew his parents and sisters were dead.

Robert and his mother were rescued from the icy waters and rushed to the hospital. His mother died in the hospital.

His father, Joseph, and sisters, Patricia, 13, and Joan, 5, were listed among those missing. Deckhands on a tugboat reported seeing a man, holding a little blonde girl, swept under the surface of the water as the plane was sinking.

They were believed to be Robert's father and one of his sisters.

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Federal Judge Albert V. Bryan today ordered Alexandria to admit nine Negro children to white schools next Tuesday.

Yanks, Reds Talk On Convoy Issue

HELMSTEDT, West Germany (AP)—An American and a Soviet army officer conferred at this frontier post today in an apparent effort to settle the dispute that has stranded an American military convoy inside satellite East Germany for two days.

The United States repeatedly protested to Soviet army headquarters that the action was a breach of the Soviet Union's guarantee of free access to the city, given at the end of the 1948 blockade.

But there was no indication the Soviets would back down or that the United States would recall the trucks to West Berlin, as the Soviet border guards suggested.

The four-truck convoy remained parked at Marienborn, within sight of the free West.

In temperature several degrees below freezing, five American soldiers spent a second uncomfortable night wrapped in blankets in four trucks parked alongside the autobahn. They had been stranded there since early Monday afternoon.

At daylight an officer from the U.S. Army detachment at Helmstedt walked the 200 yards to the men in Communist East Germany and took them hot coffee and breakfast.

Private vehicles driven by members of the Western forces and German cars and trucks also went to and from West Berlin.

It was an irony of fate that the tugboat happened to be near the crash. New York harbor tugs, ordinarily scurrying busily up and down the river, are now tied up by a strike of crewmen.

The tug which raced to the rescue, however, was not affected by the tieup because it is based in Connecticut.

Among the missing plane passengers presumed dead were Beulah Zachary, producer of the Kuk-

Plane Crash Recalls Other Air Disasters

NEW YORK (AP)—The death toll in the East River plane crash Tuesday night reached high tolls in crashes in years past.

Aviation's highest death toll — which involved a military plane — occurred June 18, 1953, when 129 U.S. servicemen perished in an Air Force C124 Globemaster near Tokyo.

The worst commercial airline disaster occurred over the Grand Canyon June 30, 1956. A United Airlines DC7 and a Trans World Super Constellation collided and crashed with 99 aboard.

Other big crashes:

Cardiff, Wales—March 12, 1950, 80 soccer fans returning from a Dublin game.

Issoudin, Quebec—Aug. 11, 1957, 79 in a chartered Maritime Central Airways DC4 returning from England.

Off New Jersey—June 20, 1956, 74 in a Venezuela Air Lines Super Constellation bound for New York.

OGILVIE'S

Rush Develops By Candidates

Deadline's Today To Enter Primary

Salineville, Lisbon and Salem also gained new candidates in the filings yesterday afternoon.

John C. Beadell filed for the Republican nomination for a Salineville Council seat. Raymond Dixon and Richard J. Bloo, both Republicans, entered for Lisbon Council. Rudolph M. Linder entered for First Ward councilman and Frank L. Byerly filed for councilman-at-large in Salem. Both are Republicans.

Atty. Coleman has practiced law in East Liverpool 10 years and formerly was associated in legal work with three federal government agencies in Washington. During World War II, he worked on strategic logistics planning in the Transportation Corps for the War Department. He also worked with the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Veterans Administration.

Atty. Coleman attended Bethany College and Marshall College. He received a law degree in 1933 from Georgetown University, which awarded him a master's degree in 1938. He was admitted to the Ohio Bar in 1934.

A member of Riddle Masonic Lodge, he is the father of two daughters. He was born and reared here and was graduated from East Liverpool High School. When Valley Motor Transit Co. announced plans to quit business in 1955, he was active for about six months in a movement to organize a new bus service.

Two others filed earlier for the judge's post. Judge George L. Brokaw entered as an independent candidate for the November general election, bypassing the May primaries. Atty. Samuel M. Choff filed for the Democratic primaries.

Wilson previously served four terms as a councilman-at-large, leaving office about six years ago. A veteran of World War II, he is a member of the Elks Lodge and St. Stephen's Episcopal Church. He operates a grocery and carry-out store at the rear of his home.

Mrs. Baldwin, 1708 Maple Ave., Wellsville, is the wife of former Fourth Ward Councilman Allen Baldwin. She is making her first formal bid in politics. She is the mother of five sons and a daughter. Mrs. Baldwin said she has had some formal training in bookkeeping. She is a member of the Eastern Star, White Shrine, the Garfield School Parent-Teacher Association, the Second Presbyterian Church and the Omni Orange and Black Activity Club.

She is employed as a nurse's aide at City Hospital and is vice president of the Building Service Workers Union at the hospital.

Weis, 1505 Buckeye Ave., is owner of the Wesco Manufacturing Co. He also served as Council president during 1954-55. He is active in the Wellsville Community Improvement Council and the Kiwanis Club.

Nelson, 1013 Main St., Wellsville, also served as a councilman in 1954-55. He is employed as a salesman at the Smith & Phillips Co. He is chairman of finance committee of Council.

Wellsville gained two Democratic mayoralty aspirants in the late filings. They are Charles A. Lewis, a former safety-service director, and Oliver P. McAdoo, a Crucible employee. Also entering from Wellsville was Byron Carter, an employee of the Globe Brick Co., for the Republican nomination for councilman-at-large.

Six Republicans and four Democrats entered from Lisbon in new filings today. The Republicans are Joseph J. Dornon, Robert N. Lower, Alfred Steele, John D. England, and Robert P. Kelm, all for Councilman-at-large.

McAdoo, 705 Broadway, Wellsville, also is employed at the Crucible. He is a member of the First Presbyterian Church and president of the Presbyterian Men's Organization.

Carter, who resides at 311 Wells Ave., Wellsville, served two years in the Army in the Korean Conflict. He is a member of Lee's Chapel of the African Methodist Episcopal Church and has been superintendent of its Sunday School five years. He also is a trustee and steward of the church. He is master of John Washington Masonic Lodge and a committee man for Boy Scout Troop 28.

Winston Porter Named Head Of Country Club

Winston A. Porter of Armstrong Ln. was elected president of the Country Club at a dinner meeting Tuesday night attended by some 60.

John C. Thompson was elected vice president, and James K. Kelly, secretary-treasurer. Richard V. Beatty is retiring president.

Porter and Thompson were also re-elected as members of the Board of Trustees. W. I. McInerney of Midland is a new member of the board.

The House Conservation Committee heard from those favoring a 10-day hunting period on Bob White quail—a privilege denied Ohioans for 45 years because quail have been on the songbird list. Quail were shifted to the game bird list—for propagation purposes only—10 years ago.

The question now is: Shall hunters be allowed to "harvest" part of the quail crop each year, or shall the Bob White become a songbird again?

Registrants Sought For Adult Education

About 39 have signed for adult education courses at Beaver Local High School, but registration is still insufficient, Lee Kirkland, principal, said today.

Further registration will be held this week for anyone wishing the courses. Only two registrants each are needed to complete enrollment for sewing, office practice and golf, Kirkland said.

More are needed for other courses which will not be held unless there are at least 10 registered. These courses include typing, shorthand, art and reading comprehension.

Registration can be made by phone at the high school. Courses are scheduled to start Monday.

Russia Has Made Its Point

Defense Minister Rodion Malinovsky has clinched the claim various Soviet spokesmen have been making that Russia is now the military equal of any combination of powers on earth.

Red rockets, he asserts, can be fired with pinpoint accuracy at any target in the world. Their H-bomb warheads would wreak devastation beyond description.

Not only are the rockets in existence in all categories of range but Russian rocketeers have proved with their sun-orbiting rocket that they have mastered the intricacies of controlling their flight. To be as blunt as Malinovsky was aiming to be without actually saying so, if Russia can put a rocket into orbit around the sun it should have no trouble figuring out a way to make one drop on Detroit. All it would take would be one.

RUSSIA HAS MADE its point. No one doubts any more that the devastation it could cause, if it chose, would be far-ranging and demoralizing. Though it has not done anything so far to demonstrate that it knows how to bring a rocket back through the earth's atmosphere, it is not even being doubted seriously that Russian scientists are as capable of solving that problem as U.S. scientists, who claim to have solved it some time ago.

The question is whether Russia would choose to start a thermonuclear war, granted that it has everything it needs.

Two things could stop it. First, like the United States when it had the unilateral means to devastate the world with A-bombs in 1945 and the next few years, it could restrain itself.

Second, if self-restraint failed, it could be restrained by fear of the consequences if it started a thermonuclear war. This has become the responsibility of the United States and its allies.

WHILE THEY are awaiting development of rockets equal in thrust and accuracy to the Russian rockets, they must put their faith in retaliatory action by the U.S. Strategic Air Command in case of attack. The hydrogen bombs the SAC planes would bear to their targets would be in transit a longer time, but when they finally were dropped they would do just as much damage.

In military showdown, Russia would have the advantage of striking first. But that would not necessarily be an overwhelming advantage, because as long as retaliatory power exists the aggressors still must figure out who is likely to strike last.

The day has gone when every Russian claim of strength was shrugged off as being of no consequence. Russia has made its point. It is a first-rate military power. But it is not the only first-rate military power.

So Obvious It Will Bear Repeating

Everybody was surprised by the absence of violence when Virginia schools that had been closed over the integration fight opened without trouble in two counties this week.

It is a good bet there will be no trouble on the scale encountered in Little Rock, Ark., last year, where politicians and trouble-making adults did everything in their power to cause violence.

Even if they get in their best jicks in Virginia, where they have been concentrating up to now on the state legislature, some of the fire will be taken out of their prejudice by this fact:

That Virginia students and parents, having gone through the experience of having no schools at all, are in a mood to accept schools on the terms satisfactory to the courts.

Education has been made to seem more important than segregation. This state of mind never was reached in Little Rock, where adult agitators succeeded in causing enough trouble through children in Central High School to make segregation seem more important than education.

The truth is so obvious it will bear repeating that prejudice in the schools is not natural to children. They are not born with prejudice. They learn to feel prejudice under the tutelage of prejudiced parents who, in many cases, are made to feel more prejudice than is natural by rabble-rousing politicians whose only stock in trade in some Southern states is race hatred.

Virginia's politicians are not necessarily any better than Arkansas politicians in this respect, but the evidence at hand suggests that Virginia school children and their parents are more impressed with the importance of listening to teachers than with the importance of listening to politicians.

Let's Have Comparative Figures

The Senate has given its rackets investigating committee another $750,000 to continue its work for at least one more year, when its chairman, Sen. McClellan thinks the job will be over.

There was some grumbling by other senators about the cost of the investigation, which might conceivably add up to a down payment on one of the rockets they keep lighting at Cape Canaveral. Before any senator or union spokesman tees off on the high cost of keeping track of rackets, the public is entitled to comparative figures.

How much does it cost the Department of Justice to maintain the trust-busting section which keeps track of business activities? What does it cost the government to make certain the meat industry isn't putting anything over on meat-eaters?

What is spent annually on administration of the Pure Food and Drug Act? How much does it cost to restrain people who might otherwise send dirty postcards or fraudulent material through the mail?

How much more or less than $750,000 is spent each year to stifle the temptation to misrepresent offerings of stocks and bonds? And what is spent outside the United States on the protection of ignorant people against the tse-tse fly?

The way things are at the moment, with local and state enforcement of laws against labor unions in a condition of paralysis and no federal laws to restrain union racketeers having been passed, three-quarters of a million dollars to give the pugs of strong-arm unionism something to think about may be the best bargain taxpayers are getting out of the entire 77 billion dollars the budget calls for—plus the extra billions the Spendocrats are planning to tack on in transit.

Constructive, Please!

The "Letters To The Editor" column has been enjoying a brisk business the last few days, with the Lawrence supporters coming to the front.

We asked for it and we're pleased. Up to this time, the administration viewpoint has been overshadowed as the opposition found more time to take pen in hand.

It would be regrettable, however, if the letters come and go without some substantial benefit being realized. In most there is food for thought. All should be studied constructively by the readers.

It is not a matter of keeping score—how many for Lawrence and how many against him. Rather it is one of measuring the contents of the letters and determining what makes sense and what doesn't.

In conjunction with the letters, we have leaned over backwards on the side of free expression, and will continue to do so. But within the last few days some have been received that were so overrun with irresponsible statements that it was inadvisable to publish them in the interest of fair play.

May we again emphasize that The Review welcomes your letters, regardless of the viewpoint. But they must be constructive and not vicious and libelous expressions that tear down just for the sake of tearing down.

first man to get into orbit around the moon or nearly so."

Arthur fainted, giving out a queer gurgling sound. Reviving him was slow. He came around as soon as the space man called back and said, "Excuse it, please. Wrong number."

"THERE SHOULD be a thaw," shouted Khrushchev with extra coldness. "There must be a break in chilliness," he added, reaching into the icebox for the next page of his deep-freeze speech.

From the crowd, tightening up its fur overcoats, went up the cheer:

One, two, three thaw!

Raw! Raw! Raw!

"I call on the Free World to show some warmth," continued Nikita, as he picked up an icicle that had fallen from his script. To more cheers from the audience he went on: "We would have world peace if coldness could be dropped from international relations." He began to tick now, indicating that he was functioning well and making ice fast.)

He was drowned in cheers that froze, turning into light snow. "Forward for peace, Russia and the big THAW," he concluded, shivering intensely as he lowered temperatures and sent up the red ball indicating thick ice and skating.

The space man was irritated. "My boy," he said as Arthur took the phone again, "you don't seem to appreciate that, dead or alive, you can go down in history as the Bit Players Waiting In The Wings?

Jim Hoffa's Buddy From Chicago

By Victor Riesel

There have been more than 800 tough and unfriendly witnesses on the Senate racket-busting committee's hot seat. One of the newest and toughest is the central character in an operation which ran $27,500 into a four million, perhaps five million dollar profit.

This character is ex-aide fighter Victor Riesel. Paul Dorfman, Jimmy Hoffa's closest friend and business partner. Dorfman is all woven steel and never took it as an insult the other day when McClellan committee counselor Bob Kennedy asked him if he was the link between the Chicago underworld elite and his buddy from Detroit. You can't insult Dorfman with such minor details.

He's for the big stuff — like having an insurance brokerage outfit, which he dominates, overcharge Hoffa's home locals' welfare funds by some $2,400,000. This is only part of the profit the Dorfman agency made for "servicing" Midwest Teamster units since 1950.

That was the year the brokerage, known as the Union Insurance Agency, was launched on America's free enterprise for the sum of $27,500. Since then the Dorfman agency has handled some 86 million dollars worth of insurance, with cash premiums as high as 15 million dollars, it might interest the working class to know.

MAYOR LAWRENCE also said that our policemen, firemen and other city employees were underpaid and that they were deserving of a raise — long overdue. Some of our workers even went out on strike in an effort to force the city to give them a raise, but there wasn't any money.

Then came the income tax. When Council put the tax through under emergency legislation, you would have thought it was trying to steal the gold out of Fort Knox. You know what happened and the way people reacted. The expression of some of our citizens showed that they didn't give a hoot if the city employees ever got a raise.

You know the story about the tax and for how long it was collected. As a result, city employees got their raise. The city bought some equipment which it needed badly, hired more policemen and firemen and did work on some streets.

EVERYBODY asked: "What do they do with all the tax money they take in?" Inflation is the thief who takes too much of your tax money. Everything the city buys costs more and our taxes are not keeping up with the expenses. Our federal government is the one taking our money, not our city government.

Mayor Lawrence, Council and some of our civic-minded residents are trying to get a freeway. In some of the "Letters To The Editor", this has been criticized sharply.

Did you ever stop to think what would happen if one of those tank trucks would stall on Market St. and start to roll backward down the hill with 5,000 gallons of high octane gasoline in it? You could have a fire in East Liverpool that you would never forget.

We need this freeway to get the traffic off our main streets. And it would be better for business and everybody.

Now that the tax has been erased, where do we go from here? Our streets are full of holes and many of them need resurfacing. Our City Hall needs repairing badly. There are many things to be done to make East Liverpool a first-rate city.

Mayor Lawrence has told us what the city needs and is serving full time for one dollar a year to help get some of the things done. But all he gets in return is hell from many of our citizens.

HOW COULD Dorfman's agency have been so "lucky"? That was what a congressional committee asked the employer trustees of the Midwest Teamsters fund back in '58.

WHY DO

some of our citizens criticize the mayor? Is it because he has tried so hard to stop gambling? Is it because he is tramping on the toes of the numbers racket? Is it because he is trying to keep the bums off our streets? Is it because he is trying to make a first-class city out of East Liverpool by enforcing the law?

I will let you answer these questions. But I think the combinations will give the answer.

I don't feel that putting the toll back on the Chester Bridge will solve the problem. I think this is a step backward. We should keep the bridge free to keep the flow of customers coming to East Liverpool.

I think we should try to bring back the income tax at the November election. It is the only fair tax. If you don't work, you don't pay. If you are only working a little, you pay only a little.

For many of us, it would cost less than a dollar a week, but it would do so much for the city. I hate to pay a lot of taxes as much as anybody, but our city needs the money and I am willing to make the sacrifice.

In Saturday's letter by Mr. Smith of Chester, he mentioned Pittsburgh as a city with a vision. If you talk to any Pittsburgher, he is proud to say that he resides there and he will point with pride to what is being done. And the taxes in Pittsburgh are very high.

Most of the people of East Liverpool are good people and friendly people. I hope we can all stick together to make the city a place of which we can be proud.

Mayor Lawrence, I think you and Council are doing a good job and I hope you will get better cooperation in the future.

Record Of Coercion

By David Lawrence

Did The People Ratify The 14th Amendment?

The people of Virginia are not happy over the enforced integration of their public schools. They feel that they are being coerced into doing something against their will. They have been told the Constitution is "what the people of the United States say it is." But is it always? In no state of the David Lawrence Union have the people ever voted to approve any change in the Constitution that requires integration or desegregation in the public schools.

UP TO 1896, when the Supreme Court of the United States affirmed it, no court of importance held that the "separate but equal" idea for public schools was violation of the federal Constitution. In fact, the highest courts of several states, including Massachusetts, Ohio and New York, repeatedly upheld the "separate but equal" doctrine as conforming to the federal Constitution.

Even the same Congress which had ordered the 14th Amendment ratified by the South under military coercion passed a law providing for segregated public schools in the District of Columbia.

Yet the present Supreme Court of the United States, before its 1954 decision, asked for testimony on the "intent" of the framers of the 14th Amendment and then called the facts as submitted "inconclusive."

The truth is the present court followed precedent in declining to examine the legality of the process by which the 14th amendment was allegedly ratified.

Every time anyone has tried to get the previous justices to examine the issue — and this has happened several times — the matter has been turned aside as "political."

No decision has ever been rendered by the Supreme Court on the merits of the case. This was doubtless due to a feeling that, if ever passed upon, the amendment would have to be declared illegal.

But why turn the clock back to 1868? This question is often asked, and it is answered by asking another question: Why in 1954 turn the clocks back to 1866 to invalidate the doctrine of "separate but equal" which had for 58 years been the "law of the land"?

THIS CORRESPONDENT attended an integrated public school both in the elementary grades and in high school and would gladly attend one again if he were a student.

If a constitutional amendment were proposed that would permit the states to deal with this subject, this writer would vote for such an amendment.

If the 14th Amendment were adopted today by the states, and it specifically forbade segregation, this writer would welcome it as an expression of the free will of the people uncoerced by bayonets and representing the desires of the American electorate.

In the absence of any Supreme Court decision to the contrary, the 14th Amendment is assumed to be valid. This means federal court orders based on its provisions must be obeyed. But no state is denied the right to try by legal means any form of circumvention to the state legislatures in the south.

Under military rule, the southern states — with their legislatures composed largely of Negroes, because most of the white voters had been disenfranchised — "ratified" the 14th Amendment.

Meanwhile, can American afford to let the record of fraud and coercion stand as it is before the world — or will a troubled conscience someday make the people of the United States square that record by a lawfully adopted amendment to the Constitution?

Ia, Fran and Ollie television program; and Richard Winn, director of facility planning for American Airlines.

The new airliners were designed to combine jet power with the advantage of the propeller. The engines operate on the turbine principle.

The liner was easing toward La Guardia through light rain and fog, in 38-degree weather with the ceiling about 300 to 400 feet.

It plummeted into the river between 2,500 and 4,000 feet short of the shoreline start of the runway. The force of the impact cracked the plane in two.

The disaster scene was only about half a mile from Rikers Island, where a Northeast airliner crashed after takeoff in a snowstorm Feb. 1, 1957. Twenty of the 94 persons aboard the Northeast plane were killed.

The American airliner crashed at 11:54 p.m., 49 minutes after it was due at La Guardia.

A tugboat crew heading down the river heard the crash and sped to the scene.

"We heard a terrific crash," said Everett Phelps, 48, coskipper of the tug.

"The noise seemed to come from about 800 feet away. We turned on a searchlight and saw a plane crashing up in all directions."

"I pulled three persons out. There seemed to be bodies all around, and there were continual screams for help."

Phelps said his crew had picked up eight survivors using boat hooks for some, before the wreckage slipped away from them in the darkness.

Coast Guard boats raced to the scene and gave a tragic report of "picking up bodies everywhere."

A temporary morgue was set up at a nearby Queens point, and survivors were rushed to Flushing Hospital.

Hospital. Seven were in critical condition.

A survivor, Herbert Forman, 36, of North Plainfield, N.J., told newsmen at Queens General Hospital he was leaning against a window looking at the lights of the city when:

"Just as we were about to land there was a sudden jolt and then an awful lot of noise, and we were in the water. It started rushing into the cabin, and I was completely submerged."

"Then I was floating in the water, and I don't know how, but with the help of somebody, I think it was the flight engineer, I was lifted to a wing."

"I had been sitting in front of the ship, and I guess I was just lucky."

At the airport, a number of persons, several of them women in tears, waited in the airline lounge for word of survivors.

Among the missing was pilot, Capt. Albert H. De Witt, of Decatur, Mich.

An official of the new Federal Aviation Agency said that "the last contact with the pilot was routine in nature."

Joseph D. Blatt, FAA regional administrator, said the plane was making a "standard instrument approach" to La Guardia from the northeast.

The last contact was made as the plane flew over a range station, 2.8 miles from the end of the runway.

"At this time, the pilot acknowledged clearance to land," Blatt said.

Normal altitude for the plane over the range station would have been 800 feet.

Blatt said the plane was coming in on one radio beam which told the pilot if he was directly in line with the runway.

The FAA began an immediate investigation. In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board said its two top investigators for New York were sent to the scene.

As the search continued for more survivors, the pilot of a police helicopter reported that a swift current was carrying bodies out into Long Island Sound.

American said it had placed six of the turbo-prop Electras into operation last Jan. 23.

The airline identified the crew members in addition to De Witt as:

Frank S. Hlavacek, flight officer, 2215 Schiller Ave., Wilmette, Ill.

Warren E. Cook, flight engineer

572 Parker Ave., Aurora, Ill. Mae Markidis, stewardess, Rochester, N.Y.

Joan Marie Zeller, stewardess, 3031 Pawtucket Ave., Riverside, R.I.

Hlavacek, Cook, and Miss Zeller were among the survivors.

Another survivor was Bobby Sullivan, 8, who was picked up swimming free. Phelps, the tugboat captain, said the boy "was numb with cold and unable to talk."

"If only there had been more boats around," Phelps said. "Survivors couldn't last long in that water. We waited until we were sure there were no more living around, and we started toward shore."

27 Hanoverton Pupils Listed For Honor Roll

HANOVERTON — A total of 27 students of the seventh and eighth grades at United High School have achieved the honor roll for the third six-week grading period, Frank Solak, principal announced. They are:

Eighth Grade — Faith Dorr, Martha Synder and Herman Zeigler (all A's); Bonnie Cox, Raean Camp, Nadine Doyle, Lynden Gamble, Mary Ellen Gray, Janie Heinbuch, Francis Hawkins, Eleena Kutz, Sandra Liebhart, Bonnie Lindesmith, Linda Myers, Carol Seever, Ellen Speidel, David Stewart, Brooks Weingart, Carol Windle and Brenda Wright.

Seventh Grade — Melinda Gamble and Barbara Hurchanik (all A's); Robert Anderson, Mike Jewell, Teri O'Donnell, Donna Lucas and Wanda Phillips.

County Man, 73, Hit By Car In Salem Area

SALEM — A 73-year-old Hanoverton area man, struck by a car on Route 62 Tuesday afternoon, is in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with fractures of both legs.

Edward Meister of Hanoverton R. D. 1 was crossing the road about 4 miles west of here yesterday at 3:30 p.m. when he stepped into the path of a car driven by Thelma Eastham, 55, of Sebring, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said. Meister hesitated in the middle of the road, then walked in front of the auto, which was almost halted, officers said.

The FAA began an immediate investigation. In Washington, the Civil Aeronautics Board said its two top investigators for New York were sent to the scene.

As the search continued for more survivors, the pilot of a police helicopter reported that a swift current was carrying bodies out into Long Island Sound.

'Deliverable On Target'

McElroy Sees Missiles Gap 1-2 Weapons By Year End

WASHINGTON (AP) — Any intercontinental missile gap between the Soviet Union and the United States won't be bigger than one or two effective weapons by year's end, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said today.

McElroy, elaborating on his testimony Tuesday before the House Armed Services Committee said he was talking in terms of missiles "deliverable on target."

The United States will have a number of missiles ready on their launching pads by December, he told reporters. It is assumed the Soviet Union will, too. But, the secretary went on, "No one believes there will be 100 missiles able to go the full way."

"We discount ours the same way we do theirs" for potential misfires and strays, he said, and on this basis, there will be no practical difference by the end of the year—"No more than one or two missiles," based on our judgment of accuracy and reliability.

McElroy told the representatives that taking into account all the varied means the United States commands for delivering a lethal punch, it is sure enough of victory to discourage any opponent from starting a war.

He was referring to the U.S. total strength in missiles of different ranges, aircraft, advanced bases, carriers and other weapons systems.

Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, the Air Force ballistic missile chief, also expressed personal confidence in the state of the nation's defense—both in strikeback and defense power.

Schriever testified in the House Space Committee's inquiry into how the United States stands in the cold war race.

"I can go home with a reasonable confidence that we're not going to be annihilated in a wink of the eye," Schriever said.

Jail Population Grows By 42 During January

LISBON — Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reported a total of 42 prisoners were received at the County Jail during January, in addition to the 25 already confined as of Jan. 1.

Some 43 prisoners were released during the month, 4 were conveyed to state institutions and 2 mental patients were taken to state hospitals. There were 128 visitors.

A total of 2,426 meals were served for a total of $886.10, making the average daily expense $1.09 per prisoner.

Sheriff VanFossan said 234 persons were served, along with 8 executions and 2 orders of sale.

The radio division handled 5,822 transmissions along with 1,142 phone calls at the jail.

New Cumberland Senior Nominated For West Point

A New Cumberland High School senior is among 10 youths in the 1st Congressional District of West Virginia nominated by Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr. as a candidate for the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

He is Phillip Dean Cullen, son of Mrs. Irene Cullen, 1210 Ridge Ave., who was an All-West Virginian Class A fullback selection this year and is also a standout on the school's basketball team. Cullen is an honor student, according to Principal C. D. Henderson.

The West Point examination will be held March 15 and the candidates will compete for two vacancies available to Rep. Moore. The others will be listed as alternates.

The youth making the highest grade receives Rep. Moore's principal appointment while others on the list are eligible for secretary of the army appointment.

Besides Cullen, others nominated include Jon Robert Saffell of Moundsville, William A. Jones of Weirton, Thomas A. Basil and David Casanelli, both of Follansbee, Rodney M. Albaugh, Russell Irvine, Edward Williams and Stephens Neff, all of Wheeling, John A. Sinsel of Mannington, and Robert Wesley Butts of Benwood.

PTA Work Described For Grandview Group

Mrs. Matthew Javersak of Weirton, president of the Hancock County Parent-Teacher Council, spoke at a meeting of the Grandview Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday night at the school near Chester.

Mrs. Javersak discussed PTA work as part of the program on Founder's Day.

A playlet was presented by William Schladen, Mrs. Donald Brown, Mrs. Thelma Wright, Albert Shroades and Mrs. William Shroades. Quartet selections were sung by Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. George Gibson and Mrs. William Schladen.

Shroades, president, led devotions. Mrs. Wright was program chairman. Plans were made for a bakesale March 7 at Eberhart's Grocery in Lawrenceville.

Gifts were presented to C. B. Smith, Mrs. Dora Greenwalt and Mrs. Winifred Hetzler, teachers. Refreshments were served 30 by the homeroom mothers. The next meeting will be March 3.

Chorus Uniforms Ordered For Vocal Groups' 'Parade'

The local Barbershop Quartet Society of the SPEBSQSA selected material and placed an order for new chorus uniforms Monday evening in preparation for the 10th annual "Parade of Quartets" March 21 at Westgate Auditorium.

Robert Blatchford, parade committee member, said that all quartets are officially signed up, with the "Confederates," international champions from Memphis, Tenn., featured.

Wilbur Newman, ticket committee chairman, said that all persons on the patron ticket list will be contacted this week for orders.

The chapter accepted the executive committee's recommendation that committees be appointed to investigate ways and means to provide a chapter-owned building.

Glenn Woods, president, the e n appointed Donald Schussler, chairman, John Skidmore, Glenn Jarman, Fred Kane and Dean Manning to a building committee, and

Newman, Lee Adams and Harold Putt to finance.

The chapter voted to appear before the Lions Club at the Country Club Feb. 18. William Brooks, program chairman, said the chapter will hold a round-robin contest Feb. 16 and each member will be photographed in uniform March 23.

Selections were sung by the "Note Nuts," the "Scaredy Kats" and several pickup quartets.

Guests included Dave Whealdon,

James Skidmore and Richard Graham of station WKW of Wheel-

Rotary Sees Film On City Planning

A 29-minute color film, which pointed out the urgency of long-range city planning and zoning to attract industry, was screened when the Rotary Club met Tuesday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

"Plan for Prosperity" illustrated the superior advantages of a city built with the future in mind over another that had no long-range planning.

By comparison, one city had adequate schools, housing developments and ample room for industrial establishments, while the other was crowded and was shunned

by enterprises seeking expansion or new location.

William Black of the Ohio Power Co., was program chairman.

He was accompanied by Don

Baxter. Guests were present from Midland. Dean Wilhelm, president, presided and a club assembly followed the program.

Flood Debris Cleared, Job Resumed On Dam

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—With the last of the flood debris cleared away, work has resumed on the 25-million-dollar Dillon Dam which is designed to prevent such future inundations.

Project Engineer Ed Snyder said permanent dam installations were not damaged by recent flood waters from the Licking River, although some temporary construction was washed away.

The dam is now 15 per cent completed and is scheduled to go into operation next year.

Club Given Penalty

NEW WATERFORD — Florence Spellman of the Casa Loma on Route 14 has been given a seven-day suspension of her liquor license for sale of intoxicating liquor to a minor, according to the Department of Liquor Control at Columbus. The suspension will begin Friday, Feb. 13, and end at midnight Feb. 19.

The expanding role of supervisory employees in U. S. industry was discussed by Paul J. Tarowsky of the Weirton Steel Co. at a meeting of the Chester Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at the City Hall auditorium.

Nine members of the East Liverpool club were guests at the interclub meeting at which Tarowsky of the steel firm's Speakers Bureau talked on communication and creativity of ideas.

A supervisor in industry today must be somewhat of a psychologist and attorney, Tarowsky said. Because of the growing size and complexity of industry, a supervisor must understand more and more his job and its relation to others. He said 450 ideas introduced by Weirton Steel employees have been put to use since 1955.

"It is very difficult for some people to communicate with others, because they do not stop to think what they want to say."

"We need more young people today with creativity — ones who can look into a mud puddle and come up with more than mud," he said.

He compared the Soviet system of education with America's, and said Russian propaganda has exaggerated the success of their schools and advanced education.

Alvin (Pete) Arner, program chairman, introduced Tarowsky. East Liverpool guests included Robert Metcalfe, Russell Heddleston, Charles Schell, Harold Allison, Alvin Arner, Rowland Kaufman, William Patch, Al Webber and Ed Maloney. John Hunter of Wheeling and Tom Hindes and John Moore, Key Club members, were also guests.

Actress Hedy Lamarr Is Sued For Divorce

HOUSTON (AP) — Oilmann W. Howard Lee Tuesday filed a court suit seeking a divorce from actress Hedy Lamarr. His petition alleged cruel treatment prior to the couple's separation last August.

The marriage was the second for Lee and the fifth for Miss Lamarr.

The actress has been living in Beverly Hills since the couple separated. They were married Dec. 23, 1953 in New York City.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Surely I'm not alone in this problem. Please help me and other wives whose husbands insist on coming home for lunch every day. It's knocking me out.

Maybe I'm not budgeting my time properly but I never seem to get through a day's work. My schedule looks something like this:

Pop leaves at 8 a.m.

Child off to school at 9 a.m.

Pop home for lunch at 11:30 a.m.

Child home for lunch at noon.

Chillicothe Scouts Get DiSalle Okay On Special Patch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Explorer Scouts of Chillicothe have received approval of their special shoulder patch from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle.

The governor signed and affixed the state seal Tuesday to a document recounting the history of the patch worn by members of Post 18 in the Chief Logan Council, created for 14-18 year old youths. The post specializes in Indian lore. Gilbert E. Brown of Chillicothe is post scribe.

Four explorers, three of them in full Indian chief gear, presented DiSalle a leather billfold made by George Hatfield, uncle of John Digges, one of the quartet. The others were Terry Arthur, Kenneth Zonner and Mike Brown, all of Chillicothe. The presentation was made on behalf of the post in the governor's statehouse office.

Not Able To Accept

Budget Job, Berry Says

CINCINNATI (AP) — Theodore M. Berry, former vice mayor of Cincinnati, said Tuesday night he was unable to take a post under Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as superintendent of the budget.

He said he wrote James Maloon, director of finance, saying, "the fulltime requirements of the post in Cincinnati would seriously interfere with my law practice which I am not in a position to leave at this time."

Berry had been the city's only Negro councilman when he was defeated for reelection in the last councilmanic election.

The problem is this: I love my father dearly and so does my husband. Our children think there's no one like "Boopma." Next month is our oldest son's birthday and he says he wants "Boopma" at his party more than anyone.

My mother says if I invite him she'll not attend. She also says I'm being disloyal to her by being friendly with her "ex-husband," as she calls him. I love my mother, too, but I'm totally in the dark as to how to handle this mess. Advice?—DALIAH.

Police said his wife became worried when he failed to return home after supper and sent a fellow employee after him. The employee found the body.

Deputy coroner Jack Reese withheld a verdict pending an autopsy.

Dear Daliah: Your mother's "ex-husband" is your present father and it was SHE who selected him. Just because they're divorced doesn't mean you must shut him out of your life.

If the feeling is so bad between them that they simply cannot be in the same house, then alternate, and invite "Boopma" to the birthday party and your mother for Easter Sunday.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

PTA Makes Plans For Card Party

The MacDonald Parent-Teacher Association of Wellsville Monday night named committees for the public card party to be given Feb. 19 in the all-purpose room. Mrs. Jack Clark, co-president, named:

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wellington, tickets; D. T. O'Hara and Mrs. Marjorie Dysert, prizes; Mrs. June Roberts and Mrs. Pat Jenkins, tally; Jack Clark, card tables; Mrs. Doris Geer, cookies and candy; Mrs. Peggy Todd, refreshments; Mrs. Mary A. Rahter, coffee; Mrs. Twila Palmer, telephone, and Mrs. Patricia Rowe, publicity.

A 5-piece set of dishes will be the prize.

Following comments by Mrs. Floreine Broderick, president of the Columbiana County PTA Council, the group voted to contribute $25 to the county scholarship fund. Mrs. Clark reported a total of $204.53 was collected in the Mother's March On Polio.

The Rev. Robert Henthorn of the First Methodist Church used an incident from the childhood of Abraham Lincoln to open his devotions.

In a talk on "Fire Safety In Schools," Fire Chief Robert Lewis presented data and pictures on the Chicago school fire and said he has a safety school fire campaign he hopes to launch in the near future. Refreshments were given by homeroom mothers.

Man Picks Wrong Spot In Bid To Cash Check

CLEVELAND (AP) — Thomas William, trying to cash a check, made the mistake of picking a store in which two detectives and a complete common pleas jury were present Tuesday.

The detectives arrested William, 30, of Cleveland, after a telephone call to the firm named in the check indicated the check was fraudulent.

The detectives and jury had been at the F & F Style Shoppe, visiting the scene of a burglary 18 months ago.

Worker Electrocuted

CLEVELAND (AP) — Walter Radziszewski, 43, of Parma, father of three daughters, was killed by electrical shock Tuesday while working on electrical equipment in the blast furnace department at the Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp. plant here.

Police said his wife became worried when he failed to return home after supper and sent a fellow employee after him. The employee found the body.

Officials said he had been cleaning the city-owned tank, which was filled with water.

Wellsville Negligence Charged

$775 Asked For Flood Damages

Claims totaling $775.54 for damages to cellars of two 1st St. homes because of flooding were presented Wellsville Council Tuesday night.

The claims were submitted by William E. White, 316 1st St., and E. E. Daniels, 332 1st St. White, in a letter accompanying his claim, said the cellars were flooded because of the city's negligence in closing a flood gate.

HE LISTED numerous items damaged by water in his basement. He said $247 represents labor costs in replacing the knotty pine paneling.

Daniels' claim of $256.15 included a new cement floor he said was raised by the water. Both claims were referred to the claims committee and Solicitor William Bush.

A letter was read from R. D. McGill, the city's consulting engineer, concerning the flooding of 1st, 2nd and Lisbon St. areas on Jan. 22-23. The condition was caused when a flood gate did not seat properly. A sulphur deposit formed on the gate, situated at the flood wall and Little Yellow Creek.

THIS DEPOSIT later was washed away by the water pressure, allowing water to be forced back through a sewer, McGill said. The sulphur came from water flowing from an abandoned coal mine.

McGill suggested flushing the gate each time it is used. He said that water running from the hillside and the streets in the area cause a similar condition.

McGill suggested the city purchase a pump for about $800 which could be used to raise the water over the flood wall.

In other business, legislation was adopted appropriating $200 from the general fund to pay Garret Byers of Wellsville for a city lot needed in the 22nd St. pondage area.

A RESOLUTION was adopted to place a 1-mill police levy on the primary ballot. It was defeated at the November election.

The levy will be for the years 1959-60. It is a renewal.

Councilman J. Frederick Russell, water committee chairman, questioned Mayor William J. Shoultz on recommendations made at the last meeting. The mayor had asked for council's consideration in various things, including several improvements under the direction of the water department.

"You know the financial condition of the department, how do you expect these things to be done?" Russell asked. Shoultz said the requests were presented annually.

SHOUB POINTED out the department's truck is a 1947 model, the standpipes have not been repaired for 6 or 7 years and that federal funds could be used for a preliminary survey for an auxiliary water line.

Russell said the department ended the year $627 in the red and commented he was embarrassed by the recommendations. The department is considering setting up a Public Utilities Board to govern the water office and help put it back on a sound financial basis.

Russell said. He pointed out an increase in water rates about 10 months ago did not do much good.

Legislation was ordered to repeal an ordinance requiring the water department to pay $100 a month rent for its offices at City Hall. The department cannot afford to pay the rent, Russell said.

Other departments do not pay rent, he said. The department started paying rent years ago when it was better off.

COUNCIL Paul Nelson, finance committee chairman, said his committee had met with the Planning Commission. "We may have something to report on a building code in the near future," he said.

Councilman Richard Brown, property committee chairman, said he and Myron Weis, Council president, had investigated a complaint of loud noises caused by a fan at the Wellsville China Co.

"We met with Harvey Moninger, a pottery official, and hope to have the situation corrected soon," he said.

Mrs. Anna Vallera of 2nd St. complained that residents of the street do not have any way of draining their cellars. The sanitary sewer along 2nd St. is 35 feet deep and impossible to reach, she said. Those with sewers running to other streets have trouble with proper drainage, it was reported.

SHOUB agreed that the residents have a problem. It would cost about $1,500 to $2,000 to run a new sewer line along the street, he said. The matter was referred to the water and sewage committee.

In response to a question from Russell, Shoultz said all city equipment now is being housed in garages. The city has a garage at 8th St. and Diamond Sts., which houses four trucks at a cost of $60 a month, a one-car garage on Broadway costing $7 a month, 2 stalls in the Liberty Theater building costing $7 a month and the remainder are in city buildings at 1st St. and the old garage plant at 13th St. and Buckeye Ave.

SHOUB SAID Councilman Robert Taggart was responsible for obtaining the garage at 8th and Diamond.

Councilman Ancel Moore suggested the city build a large garage instead of paying rent.

The Chicago regional office of the Department of Health and Welfare reported in a letter no date has been set for final inspection of the city's sewage disposal plant.

Councilman Dominick Dash was absent because of illness.

The mayor's report for January showed a total of $1,947.66 collected in fines and fees.

McGill suggested flushing the gate each time it is used. He said that water running from the hillside and the streets in the area cause a similar condition.

McGill suggested the city purchase a pump for about $800 which could be used to raise the water over the flood wall.

Mrs. Ida Shilling, 87, of Long Island, N.Y., died Monday at 11:30 a.m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. John Johansen, following a long illness.

She resided in Newell for 40 years where she was a member of the Methodist Church.

She leaves four other daughters and several grandchildren in Chester and Newell.

Funeral services and burial will be held Thursday in New York.

Mrs. Elizabeth Kuta

Services for Mrs. Elizabeth Kuta, 71, of Toronto, who died Sunday at her home after an illness of several years, were held this morning at 11 at the Clarke Funeral Home in Toronto.

Fr. Angelo Capelli of St. Francis Roman Catholic Church of Toronto officiated.

Burial was in Toronto Union Cemetery.

She was born in Czechoslovakia Feb. 2, 1887, daughter of the late John and Catherine Varehota. Her husband, Thomas Kuta, died in 1943.

She leaves two daughters, Miss Mary Kuta and Miss Anna Kuta, both at home, and a son, John Kuta of Wellsville.

Mrs. Wilbur Stevens

EAST PALESTINE — Services will be held Thursday for Mrs. Martha Grace Stevens, 45, of near Unity, who died late Monday night at her home.

A daughter of Mrs. Jessie Mahon McCowin of near Unity and the late John McCowin, was born at Darlington Dec. 2, 1913. She was married to Wilbur Stevens.

She was a member of the Baptist Church at Cannelton, Pa.

Besides her husband at home and mother, she is survived by two sons, Wilbur McCowin of Darlington and John Oscar Dyke at home; three daughters, Mrs. Russell E. Davis of Darlington and Joyce Stevens and Peggy Ann Stevens at home; a sister, Mrs. Oscar Parish of Unity, and a brother, Dale McCowin of Darlington.

Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 at the Oliver Funeral Home by the Rev. L. Davis Schlosser.

Friends may call tonight at the funeral home.

Boy Admits Starting FireAuthorities Told He Played With Matches

A 10-year-old W. 6th St. boy admitted under questioning Tuesday that he started a fire in the three-story Troup Apartments at 142 W. 6th St. Monday night by playing with matches.

The boy was interrogated at City Hall yesterday evening by Assistant Fire Chief James M. Pelle and Patrolman Thomas Walker, assisted by Police Chief America Radesch.

The youth, who was visiting at a second-floor apartment, said he went to the third floor and started lighting matches. He threw some in an old dishpan and others in a soap dish.

He then tossed some in a box of trash inside the third-floor apartment. It caught fire and he attempted to put it out with a small fire extinguisher.

Mrs. Robert Troup, wife of the owner, threw water on the fire, holding it down until firemen arrived.

Firemen became suspicious as there was no apparent cause for the blaze. The boxes of trash were not near enough to a stove or any other source of heat to cause them to ignite, firemen said.

Pelle said the youth also was questioned in connection with a fire at Bennett's Grocery about three months ago which caused thousands of dollars damage.

Verdict Seen TodayIn Manslaughter Trial

LISBON — A verdict is expected this afternoon in the traffic manslaughter trial of Barry S. Weigle, 27, of East Palestine, a truck driver whose rig hit a school bus Sept. 12 near Unity, killing an 8-year-old boy.

Closing arguments were made this morning. The trial began Monday before Judge Joel H. Sharp. Defense witnesses testified yesterday a "thick wall of fog" covered the Route 14 area where the crash occurred, causing the death of Ernest Hitchcock, Unity School pupil.

Trial will begin Thursday morning for Harris Shasteen, 34, of Hanoverton R. D. 1, charged with non-support, according to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

100 Attend Music Program Held By Club At Wellsville

One hundred heard Dr. Abe Laufe, piano-playing professor at Pittsburgh, present his humorous talk on music at a "Guest Night" program of the Wellsville Arts Club Tuesday in the Daw Junior High School.

Dr. Laufe illustrated how music from a top musical play can be a "hit or miss." He played many top tunes and asked the audience to identify them. He also composed tunes from telephone numbers.

He gave anecdotes about how songs are born and a collection of tunes and lyrics that are alike.

He closed by playing for group singing. Dr. Laufe was introduced by Mrs. Myron Weis, program chairman. Guests were from East Liverpool.

Wives Are Guests Of Methodist MenWellsville Minister Takes Hicksville Pulpit

The Rev. Charles Russell of the Wellsville First Christian Church announced his resignation at the morning worship Sunday. He has served as pastor in Wellsville for three years.

He will leave for the Hicksville Church of Christ April 1. The congregation there numbers 360 and the membership at Wellsville is about 320.

He is a graduate from the College of Bible at Lexington, Ky.

Young Skier Killed In Snow Avalanche

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Three young skiers ventured onto a posted trail Tuesday and touched off a thundering avalanche of snow and rock. One of them was killed.

The body of Gary MacGivern, 21, Seattle, was dug from 10 feet of snow by his companion, Richard Walker, and other rescuers.

Walker, also 21 and from Seattle, his wife, and MacGivern apparently were in search of powder snow favored by expert skiers.

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Three Cheers For Barrie!

Du Pont last week on CBS gave us a very warm and beguiling production of "What Every Woman Knows," which proved that Sir James M. Barrie still could give lessons in playwriting to every playwright now alive.

This soft message about the omniscience and prescience of woman kind, which John Crosby may have done more damage to our thinking than anything since "Das Kapital," is deceptively imbedded in a play structure as hard as granite.

From the very first scene which ends with a famous curtain line ("But I thought she was 27") to its final movement of revelation and truth, "What Every Woman Knows" moves with the inevitability of doom toward its predetermined end.

So prescriptive was Sir James' guile as a playwright that I think I may say—without fear of successful corroboration—that "What Every Woman Knows" laid the philosophic groundwork for every last one of the radio and TV domestic situation comedies from "Ozzie and Harriet" to "Life of Riley" and we have been committed ever since to the proposition that all men are idiots and all wives are the all-knowing fountains of wisdom.

HOWEVER, be that as it may, Robert Mulligan, the brilliant director who did it, had more sense than to try and improve on the old master's playwriting and brought in the play pretty much the way Barrie wrote it, both in structure and tone.

The accents were still stubbornly and sometimes unintelligibly Scotch and the period was charmingly pre-World War I.

One thing that may have been quite a lot different from what Barrie intended was Siobhan McKenna as Maggie Wylie, the Scotch lass who demurely manipulated her husband into prominence in politics.

Miss McKenna was a far more tough-minded and downright athletic Maggie than any I've seen. She strode about and poked her fingers at her husband's chest with an assurance and physical brashness that was new and rather startling but, I thought, very refreshing.

She wasn't Helen Hayes but then who says she has to be? I thought she was just great.

JAMES DONALD played her dour Scotch husband who thought he was 10 feet tall without assistance and he was just perfect for the part, as they say.

Diana van der Vlis was a mighty pretty and sexy-voiced temptress as Lady Sybil and Marita Hunt was, as always, very authoritative as Comtesse de la Briere. And Tim O'Connor and Cyril Cusack, as her two brothers, and Liam smoking in a chair.

Hearing Due On Severance Tax Proposal

Coal Industry And Resources Figures Expected To Attend

CHARLESTON (W) — An evening committee hearing on a bill to levy severance tax on production of coal and other natural resources was the Legislature's biggest item of business today.

The House Finance committee called the 7 p.m. public hearing in the House chamber on the severance tax bill. A number of representatives from the coal industry and other natural resource producers were expected to be here.

Del. Nell Walker (D - Fayette) introduced the severance tax bill which is under consideration by the committee. It sets forth proposed tax rates on all major natural resources produced in the state, including 10 cents a ton on coal.

Given final approval by an 86-9 House vote and sent to Gov. Underwood was a Senate-passed bill to increase the funds available for operation of the Public Service Commission.

The measure increases from

Charges of Police

Darwin Stowers, 41, of 744 Leonard St. is scheduled for a hearing Thursday at 9 a.m. in Municipal Court on a charge of driving while intoxicated after entering a plea of not guilty at arraignment today before Judge George L. Brokaw.

Stowers was taken into custody at 3:29 this morning on Harvey Ave. after Patrolman Samuel E. Hayes halted him to check his auto registration, police said.

Four other drivers forfeited bonds and a fourth was fined.

Shirley O. Blount, 40, of Charleston, W. Va., and James A. Parks of Cleveland forfeited $16 bonds on charges they were speeding 50 miles an hour in a 20-mile zone on W. 8th St. Tuesday afternoon. They were cited two hours apart, the woman at 2:05 and the man at 4:05.

Everett Beaver, 1911 Lisbon St., forfeited $16 on a speeding charge. He was cited by the State Highway Patrol, accused of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 7 Tuesday morning.

David Southall of Glenmoor was fined $5 and costs when he pleaded guilty to crashing a traffic light at W. 9th and Chestnut Sts. He was cited at 9:15 this morning.

Mary A. Hotak of 18th St., Wellsburg, forfeited $16. She was cited Tuesday morning by the State Highway Patrol, accused of halting her auto on the main traveled portion of W. 8th St. at Shadyside Ave.

U.S. Officials Vague About Steel Walkout

WASHINGTON (AP) — A crippling steel strike in the summer? Right now, government officials just don't know.

In private or in public, they give only vague forecasts.

"It's still too early to tell what will happen," says Joseph Finnegan, director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

Privately, other officials say the situation is nip and tuck.

Three-year contracts between the United Steelworkers Union and steel producers end June 30.

Finances 'Critical'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — After a 10-year study of the state's finances, the Ohio Chamber of Commerce has concluded that the current financial picture is "critical." And it says in a report that "it is unlikely that there will be any substantial unencumbered surplus in the state treasury on June 30, unless new sources of revenue are obtained before that time."

Seeks Out Planes In Dark

Eyes' In Navy Sidewinder See' Light 5 Miles Away

By JOHN BARBOUR

NEW YORK (AP) — In the dark of night you now can see a man light a cigarette over five miles away — even if the light of his match is too weak to carry that distance.

In pitch dark, you now can see the tip of a finger more than half the length of a football field.

This strange ability to see in the dark is ours because science has given us a new set of eyes that can see heat.

They are so precise that they can detect temperature differences of a few hundredths of a degree some five miles away.

A set of these infra-red or heat-sensitive eyes rides in the nose of the lethal U.S. Navy Sidewinder missile. Fired from one plane at another, it seeks out the heat of its target's engine and homes in on it, hardly ever missing.

Along the Atlantic missile test range, huge missile nose cones burning their way back into the earth's atmosphere can be spotted and tracked by infra-red eyes in the dark of night.

Actually, infra-red devices operate fairly simply in principle. As a light meter registers the amount of light coming from a source, the infra-red device measures the amount of heat.

After that Aerojet scientists tracked the Soviet's Sputnik III in its orbit with an infrared detector.

the heat-sensitive eyes is military.

Devices carried by drone aircraft will be able to scout over enemy lines. These devices will read where vehicles and men are concentrated and will be a valuable aid in stripping away enemy camouflage.

The first time infrared successfully detected an approaching ballistic missile on the U.S. range was on May 18, 1958, when the army using Aerojet-General Corp. equipment spotted a Jupiter test missile.

The Soviet position throws doubt on whether they ever really intended or desired that the negotiations should reach a successful outcome," the State Department said.

U.S. Will Continue To Seek A-Test Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, accusing the Soviet Union of trying to wreck the Geneva nuclear conference, says it will continue to strive for agreement.

Soviet Delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin last week demanded a Soviet veto on international inspection of nuclear weapons tests.

"The Soviet position throws doubt on whether they ever really intended or desired that the negotiations should reach a successful outcome," the State Department said.

crowd while gaining revenge for a previous setback at New Brighton.

The rousing victory gave Midland an overall record of 16-3 and an 8-1 mark in league play for a first-place deadlock in the seven-team field with Hopewell.

SLOWED BY A RASH OF SECOND-HALF PERSONAL FOULING, the Leopards had to muster all their forces to win the hard way, with top-notch team play and a tight defense.

The battle was close all the way, with play under the boards rough and tumble and at times threatening to get out of hand.

Leading by only four points at halftime, sophomore Carl Anderson triggered a Midland surge in the third quarter which sent the Leopards to a comfortable margin they never relinquished.

Anderson, a 5-11 forward, scored only seven points but each came in vital spots and he drew praise from the gum-chewing Hamilton for his polished performance.

Big Movie Smith, Midland's outstanding pivot star, and junior Gene Lake, a jump shot artist, also combined their rebounding and scoring talents to spark the Leopards along to the important victory.

LAKE popped in 17 points on eight goals and a foul and Smith found the range for 15 points while helping Midland control the boards in a rough battle.

But it was diminutive Nick Vuckovich, a pint-sized guard, who proved to be a true leader and helped Midland keep its poise throughout the tight struggle. Vuckovich, harassing New Brighton's attack with clever steals which he turned into driving layups, also hit in double figures with 14 points.

Guard Steve Yetso, troubled with personal fouls, helped Big Movie in rebounding while finding time to score 10 points. Frank Alois, the fifth Midland starter, finished with four, as did senior Jim Golfin, the dependable sixth man in the Midland fold.

New Brighton, led by high-jumping Cal Sheffield, a 6-1 junior, failed to sizzle the nets to the degree of the early-season 86-60 victory over Midland when the team shot 52 per cent.

The Lions fired up shots from all angles, never trying to set up a score, and hit nine less goals than did the winners. The New Brighton cagers kept a steady pace going to the foul line and made 21 in 31 attempts.

MIDLAND goaled 28 of 70 shots for an average of 40 per cent. New Brighton tried 60 and hit 19 for 32 per cent. The victory came from floor shooting, with Lake playing a major part in the outcome on his swishing jump shots flipped from around the foul circle. Lake fouled out with 1:40 left in the game.

New Brighton's Sheffield, who is waging a strong battle with Midland's Smith for scoring leadership in the league, pummeled in 22 points on five goals and 12 of 19 free throws to pace the losers.

Sheffield, a member of New Brighton's outstanding Negro trio which includes center Al (Beanie) Beane and Paul Lowery, hit well from long range and was the Lions' strongest man on the boards.

Beane with 13 and Bill Beigley with 11 also hit in double figures for the losers. Lowery and Pete Croud, the other two starters, finished with seven and six points, respectively.

MIDLAND'S inability to hit lay-up shots led to a close score in the first half, which ended with the Leopards clinging to a narrow 35-31 lead. The second period saw the score deadlocked three times, the last at 26-26 when Smith's jump shot gave Midland the lead for good.

After Sheffield's foul shot opened the scoring in the third quarter, Midland forged ahead on three straight buckets by Smith, Anderson and Alois to grab a 41-32 lead. Midland boosted the margin to at least 10 points several times, but New Brighton stayed in contention by picking up points at the foul line.

Midland pulled away to a 13-point lead midway through the final quarter, 61-48, but Beane's rapid scoring and several foul shots by Sheffield once more narrowed the gap.

With Midland in front by eight points near the end of the game, New Brighton moved into a full-court press and picked up several quick points but couldn't overcome the lead. The Leopards played control ball in the fading minutes and collected several quick goals, including two by Smith on tip shots.

Smith's 15 points boosted his total for the season to 306, or an average of 18.1 for 18 of Midland's 19 season games. Smith missed one game due to a leg injury and was in another for only a few minutes.

In the preliminary, Midland's reserve squad built up a 24-point halftime lead and breezed past the New Brighton Jayvees, 55-33. Barney Silverman tossed in 13 points to lead the winners, with Anderson adding 11 and Merilage 10. Harris' 10 points were high for the losers.

Rams Capture Tenth, 63-59

South Side staved off a last-minute bid by Claysville to win, 63-59, Tuesday night at the South Side gym.

The victory put Coach George Thompson's team over the .500 mark with a 10-9 record.

Quentin Schmidt's 17 points set the pace for South Side while Rich Ashcroft chipped in with 14.

The Rams led most of the way with a 25-23 margin at halftime and 49-39 after three periods.

Claysville crept up on the winners in the last quarter before time ran out on the visitors.

Hale was high man on the floor as he pitched in 22 markers in a losing cause.

South Side won the reserve game, 31-20.

Vikings Drop 13th Straight

Bethany Soars To 101-59 Win Over Newell Quintet

The only team in the district keeping East Liverpool from the cellar as far as standings go is Newell which dropped its 13th straight game Tuesday night.

An invading Bethany five passed the century mark by handing Coach John Robison's Vikings a 101-59 setback at the Wells High School gym.

Newell's chances of picking up a victory this season dwindled to four, with return matches with Salineville, Chester, Bethany and Union.

In last night's contest, Newell failed to check Bethany's Bowman who scored at will as he tossed in 34 points.

Brennan Has New Job Of Getting Reds Into Shape

CINCINNATI (AP) — Terry Brennan, former Notre Dame football coach, has a new job getting the Cincinnati Redlegs' major league baseball players into shape.

Brennan said the Redlegs job will not interfere with his plans to join a Chicago investment banking firm next April.

The surprise announcement came at a press conference.

Jordan Klymkwic is more than assistant trainer for the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League. He is their alternate game post, will start talks on his college post.

Steele had entered the game to replace Bill Myers who fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Dave Brookes again topped the Panthers with 20 points, scoring on five field goals and 10 of 18 foul shots.

The veteran guard raised his total to 269 points for the season and maintained his average of 19.1 points per game.

Frank Kenny added 12 points.

The contest developed evenly in the first quarter with Beaver Local taking a 16-14 margin. The visitors showed they meant business when they led all the way through the second period and grabbed a 31-27 edge at halftime.

Chester finally bounced back in the third period and Bob Shaffer's goal as the third quarter ended put the Panthers in front, 39-38.

Dick Barnhart's fielder early in the final stanza knotted the count at 45-45, but Steele, the hero of the evening, appeared on the scene to spark Chester in the late stages.

Tigers Record Seventh Win In 12 Outings

Wellsville High's up-and-coming Tigers turned in another outstanding team performance to polish off Mingo for the second straight time this year with a 62-49 victory Tuesday night at Mingo.

It was the second straight loss administered to a Sectional AA foe by Coach Jack McDevitt's Tigers who ripped Steubenville Central Catholic last week while apparently finding just the right combination to close out the season.

The Tigers built up a 34-16 half-time lead to win easily and record their seventh triumph of the year as against five defeats.

More impressive was the fact that the Tigers again came through with a well-balanced scoring attack led by senior standout Dan Baldwin and sophomore Bob Kiggans who racked up 15 points each.

Kiggans teamed with center Franklin Jackson to help Wellsville dominate rebounding on both boards while each came through with clever passwork. Defensively, sophomore Phil Baldwin shone laurels by holding Mingo's high-scoring Frank Fuscardo to only eight points in the first half. Phil also found time to dump in eight points, matched by Jackson, while Ray Franklin scored six.

With 10 cagers breaking into the scoring column, the Tigers rattled the hoops for 25 of 55 shots for a 44 per cent shooting average. Wellsville outscored Mingo from the floor, 25 to 21, and the Tigers picked up 12 points of 25 free throw attempts.

After having built up an 18-point lead at the end of three quarters, McDevitt called on the reserves to finish off the fading Indians.

Fuscardo, after a slow start, finished with 18 points to lead Mingo's attack, while Santangelo hit for 12 and McKay 13. Mingo, outlasted the entire game, also had a poor night at the foul line in making only seven of 18 attempts.

Wellsville will attempt to improve its record this weekend with dates with Chester and Goshen Union. Chester, beaten by the Tigers on the West Virginian's boards, visits Wellsville Friday night. The Tigers swing against Goshen Union Saturday night on the Goshen court.

In the preliminary, Mingo's reserve squad squeezed past Coach Carl Firm's reserves, 51-45, in the fading minutes.

Bob Delpson and Mac Comparato each flipped in 13 points to top Wellsville's scoring, while Milligan connected for eight. Woldorf's 13 led Mingo's scoring.

North Carolina State Romps

Auburn's Streak Hits 26; West Virginia Beats Pitt

By BEN OLAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Auburn's basketball opponents are pulling every trick in the book to cut short the longest major winning streak in the nation. But the Tigers always seem to come up with a solution.

Tuesday night, Georgia Tech used a zone defense to thwart Auburn's fast break, but the Tigers, No. 4 in the country, won their 26th straight with a convincing 51-40 victory.

The triumph boosted Auburn's Southeastern Conference record to 6-0 and its season's mark to 15-0. It was the Tigers' lowest point total of the campaign during which they've scored 1,138 points to 874 for the opposition.

North Carolina State and West Virginia were the only other teams among the top 10 to see action Tuesday night.

N.C. State, No. 6, picked up steam near the end of the first half and romped to an 87-70 Atlantic Coast Conference triumph over Virginia. West Virginia, No.

10, staging a second half comeback, defeated Pittsburgh 73-64.

The expected battle between All-America candidates Don Hennon of Pittsburgh and Jerry West of West Virginia turned out to be a dud. Hennon, the 5-8 sharpshooter, fouled out midway in the second half and finished with only 13 points. West went scoreless from the field for the opening 17½ minutes and wound up with 16 points.

In other games, Duke's Blue Devils held off a late South Carolina rally to whip the Gamecocks 80-72 in the Atlantic Coast Conference; Colorado kept in the running for the Big Eight crown by handing Missouri its 10th consecutive defeat 65-59; William and Mary shot a red hot 54 per cent from the floor in the second half to run away from Virginia Military 86-60 in the Southern Conference and Wake Forest rallied in the final minute to turn back George Washington 83-81.

In the Southwest Conference, Texas Christian remained on top by clipping Texas A&M 76-64 be-ture provided actually is there on account of suitable habitat?

In order to have a good pheasant population, it would be necessary to have completely glaciated lands with 25 to 30 per cent of the lands planted primarily in corn and in other grain crops such as soy beans, oats and wheat.

The mechanical corn pickers posted three bushels of corn on each acre of land when harvested in this manner. Improved mechanical pickers will, no doubt, cut down on this waste and there will be very little left "for the birds."

Clippers Gain 64-48 Victory Over Leetonia

LEETONIA — Visiting Columbiana High sent Leetonia's Polar Bears deeper into the throes of a poor season Tuesday night by scoring a 64-48 triumph.

The loss was the 10th of the season for Coach Len Batcha's Bears, who have three victories to their credit but are trailing the field in the Tri-County League.

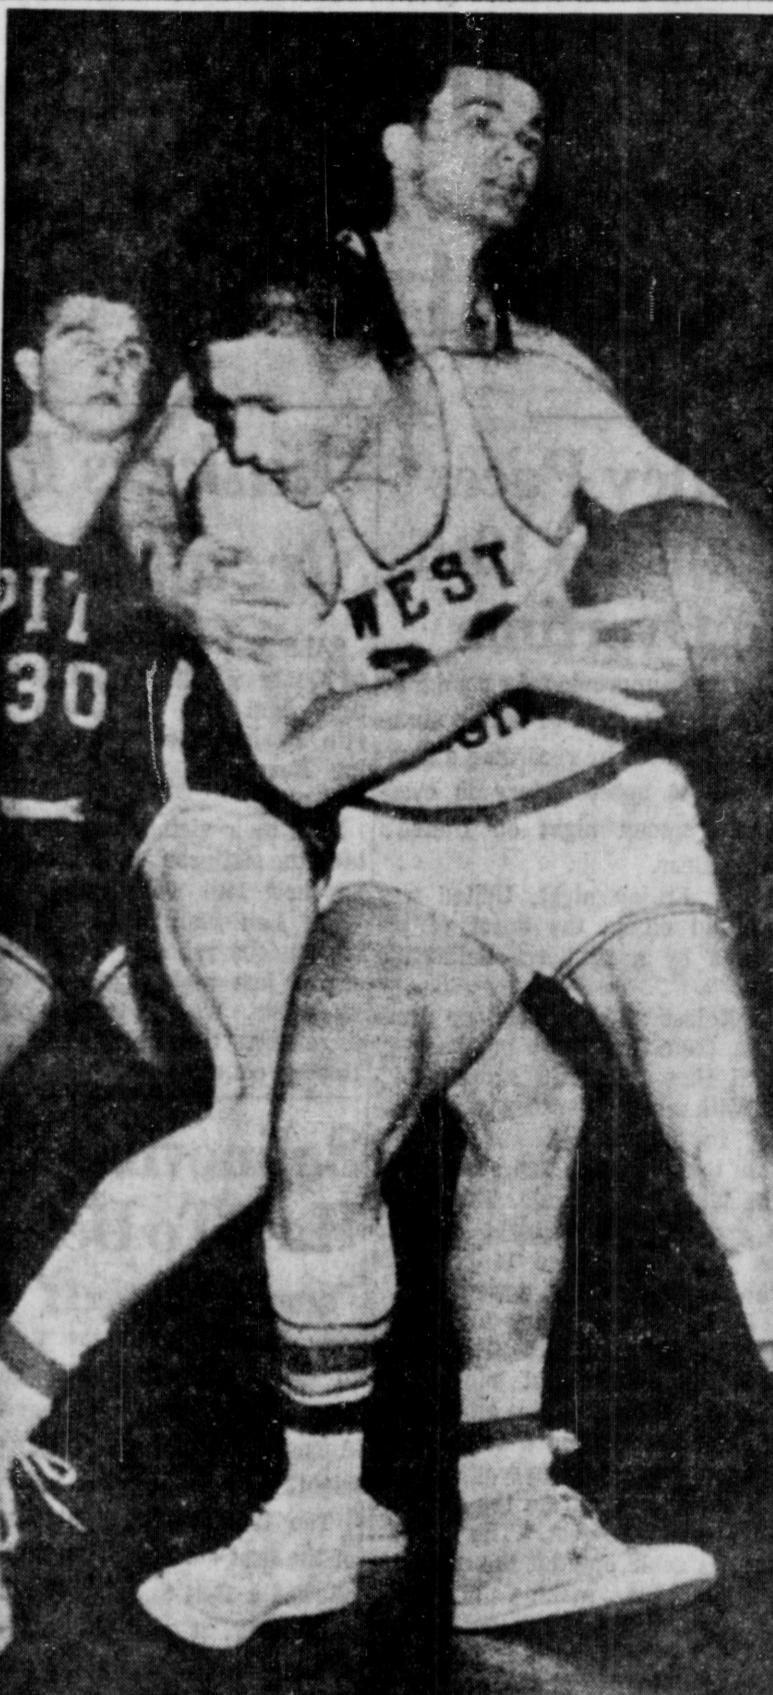

Four Columbian cagers posted double figures to lead the victory as Baltz hit for 14, Perkins 12, Davidson 11 and Harrold 10.

Leetonia stayed in contention for the first half, but fell 15 points behind after three quarters, 45-30. Chuck Lippatt's 25 points took game scoring honors for the losing Leetonia five.

The victory left Columbiana with a 6-7 mark for the year. In the reserve preliminary, Columbian's reserves captured a 39-37 sudden death overtime victory.

Feuding Dupas, Flanagan Clash On TV Tonight

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Pre-flight feuding has made Del Flanagan and Ralph Dupas sound like a couple of 10-count sluggers. But a knockout in tonight's televised bout will be one of the upsets of the year, no matter who wins.

Dupas can outpunch Flanagan and will if he has to," said Lou Gross, the New Orleans' dandy's trainer.

"What's a joke," answered Bud Henning, Flanagan's manager. "Gil Turner fought them both. Ask him who hurt him more."

Neither Flanagan nor Dupas is famous for powerhouse punching. Both are slick and savvy fighters, however, high on the list of welterweight contenders.

Flanagan will outweigh Dupas by about four pounds, 148 to 144.

He will be fighting in the chummy surroundings of the City Auditorium in St. Paul, his hometown, and he is on a winning streak.

In addition, Flanagan is campaigning loudly for a title bout and can't afford to lose prestige now. He has been established as the favorite.

Dupas is younger and maybe quicker than Flanagan, which is saying a lot. He, too, is looking for a championship shot and currently holds down No. 3 rank in the National Boxing Assn. ratings. Flanagan is No. 4.

Former pitchers Ted Lyons and Hugh Mulcahy are scouts for the Chicago White Sox.

Robinson-Basilio Rematch For Title Likely In April

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — The long-discussed middleweight championship rematch between Sugar Ray Robinson and Carmen Basilio will be held in Chicago Stadium, probably in April, Basilio's co-manager said Tuesday night.

Joe Neto told a sports writer here that there was nothing to a report Robinson would fight Light Heavyweight Champ Archie Moore.

"That match is just a lot of talk," Neto said, adding that a Robinson-Basilio fight was "in the making and I have no doubt it will come off. It will be held at Chicago Stadium, probably in April."

"The TV deal will be closed circuit and will gross two and a half million dollars. The gate will hit $400,000.

Neto reported Basilio is in good shape and ready to win back the championship from Robinson.

Roberts, Skowron, Cepeda In FoldBig League Clubs Facing Job Of Signing Up Stars

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

A trio of big ones — Robin Roberts, Bill Skowron and Orlando Cepeda — were in the fold today as major league baseball clubs faced squarely the problem of getting their stars signed before the start of spring training.

The official opening of the training season looms less than a month away. For some players, notably pitchers, catchers and rookies, the date for reporting is only about two weeks off.

Roberts, the Philadelphia Phils' six-time 20-game winner, Thursday signed a pact in the neighborhood of $40,000. After compiling a poor 10-22 record in '57, Roberts returned to form last year, fashioning a 17-14 mark for the last-place Phils.

The feat earned him The AP's comeback of the year award in the National League.

The Yankees induced Skowron to agree to terms for $20,000. The first baseman fell off a bit during the '58 campaign, falling below .300 for the first time in his career.

Cepeda is in San Juan, Puerto Rico where he has been playing winter ball, that he mailed his signed contract to the San Francisco Giants. The agreement reportedly calls for $17,000, about a $5,000 boost for the young first sacker who was the NL's rookie of the year.

The Braves signed a pair — outfielder Wes Covington and pitcher Bob Rush.

Outfielder John Callison, who led the American Assn. in homers with 29, while batting .283 for Indianapolis, agreed to his Chicago White Sox contract. He is expected to be the Sox' regular left fielder. First sacker Ray Boone also signed with the White Sox.

Pitcher Tom Brewer and Willard Nixon along with catcher Haywood Sullivan okayed Boston Red Sox terms and Detroit pulled in three, regular first baseman Larry Gail Harris and rookies Larry Osborne, a first sacker, and pitcher Rudy Serrett.

Burke's, Tice's Continue Pace In 'Y' League

Burke's and Tice's remained deadlocked for the lead in the YMCA Member League after action Tuesday night at the 'Y' floor.

Burke's, led by Ted Robinson's 28 points, rolled over Fullerton's 68-43. Jack Bailey paced the losers with 23 markers.

Tice's had a little tougher time in keeping their record unblemished with a 49-43 win over Hull's. Lorin Howard sparked Tice's with 16 points while Jim Tice has 15.

Jack Green dropped in 20 for Hull's in a losing cause.

In the other contest, Withrow's finished on top with a 51-48 victory over Gallaghers.

Bob Reed's 20 points were high for the winners while George Hale and Jim Conrad supplied a one-two scoring punch with 19 and 18 points, respectively, for Gallaghers.

The Supreme Court, while hinting that Congress should act, has declined to apply the antitrust laws to all professional team sports and kill football's players draft.

At the same time, however, it would provide limited authority, subject to regulation by the Federal Communications Commission, for something long asked by minor league baseball — agreements to restrict broadcasting and telecasting of sports events.

"This would give greater relief to minor leagues from the present practices under which major leagues control, directly or indirectly, as many as 450 players and player contracts," Kefauver said.

Most baseball officials declined immediate comment, but Keating said he would fight the Kefauver bill. As a House member last year, Keating sponsored a bill which would have exempted most professional sports operations from the antitrust laws. Passed by the House, the bill died in the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly committee headed by Kefauver.

That subcommittee is a branch of the Senate Judiciary Committee of which Keating now is a member.

Criticism of the Kefauver bill's effect on football's player draft came from Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League.

"Everyone's entitled to his opinion," Bell commented, but added: "Certainly I feel our players agree the draft is in their interest. The public seems to feel that way too."

Kefauver's bill would sanction baseball's reserve clause, which gives a club nearly complete control over a ballplayer, but would limit control to 80 players.

"This would give greater relief to minor leagues from the present practices under which major leagues control, directly or indirectly, as many as 450 players and player contracts," Kefauver said.

In Death Of Brother-In-Law*Prosecution Asks 4 Years At Labor For Crowley

TOKYO (AP) — The prosecution today demanded that Joseph P. Crowley be sentenced to four years at hard labor for the death of his brother-in-law and business partner, T. A. D. Jones Jr. Summing up his case, Prosecutor Minoru Uchida told a Tokyo district court he has proved beyond reasonable doubt that the New Haven, Conn., businessman injured Jones fatally in a fight in their Tokyo hotel suite last May after a drinking bout.

Crowley, 49, a former Yale University football star, has pleaded innocent to the charge of fatally beating the 45-year-old Jones.

The next trial session was set for Feb. 18, and defense counsel Akira Shonoh said his closing argument will take two days.

"The prosecution has never recognized any intent to kill," on Crowley's part, Uchida said. He added that if he (Crowley) had not been drinking, "This case might not have happened."

Crowley is charged with inflicting "bodily injury resulting in death," the Japanese equivalent of manslaughter. Conviction carries a 2 to 15 year prison term. An autopsy established cerebral hemorrhage as the cause of Jones' death.

Jones, Crowley and Frederic M. Kissinger of Brandywine, Md., had come to Tokyo together to buy an oil tanker. Kissinger was absolved of any connection with Jones' death.

The prosecutor stressed the following points:

1. The disorderliness of the hotel suite when Jones was found badly battered and clad in pajamas.

2. The testimony of witnesses that Crowley "wilfully kept his left hand hidden" during interrogation by police the day after Jones' death. The prosecution claims he hurt it fighting with Jones; the defense contends he had fallen in the bathtub the day before.

3. Testimony of witnesses that while nothing appeared wrong with Crowley's left hand before Jones died, later examinations showed it was swollen.

4. Bloodstains were found on Crowley's pajamas.

5. Kissinger, with Crowley's approval, offered $1,000 to Dr. Joe Ono, in addition to his fee for professional services, after the physician treated Jones' injuries. This was "a desperate attempt to conceal the truth of the matter," Uchida said.

6. Testimony of doctors that more than 30 bruises on Jones' body were likely caused by fist blows and foot kicks.

7. Dr. Ono's testimony that Crowley objected to an autopsy and asked him to write a death certificate listing the death cause as a heart attack or something similar.

Uchida admitted that "the motive for this offense has not been fully clarified" because of Crowley's denial of the charges. But he said the prosecution is convinced it has shown "beyond reasonable doubt" through circumstantial evidence that no one but Crowley could have been responsible for Jones' death.

Uchida added: "It may not be entirely appropriate to try to judge the accused, whose nationality is different from ours, with our way of thinking. However, the prosecution feels it is extremely regrettable not to be able to see in him any sign of re-pentance."

Worker Is Crushed
MIDDLETON, Ohio (AP) — Construction worker George A. Hodson, 47, of Purcell, Mo., was crushed to death Tuesday by falling shale which fell upon him as he worked on an underground excavating project. Police said Hodson was working 360 feet underground, helping to dig caverns to hold propane gas.

Gen. Windom To Head Ohio's 37th Division
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Maj. Gen. Loren G. Windom is the new commander of Ohio's 37th Infantry Division, Ohio National Guard.

Windom, recently named Ohio's adjutant general, succeeds retiring Maj. Gen. Kenneth Cooper.

Named to Windom's new staff are Col. Herbert B. Eagon of Delaware, assistant division commander; Lt. Col. William F. Morris of Columbus, chief of staff, and Maj. Robert H. Canterbury of Mansfield, division training officer.

Each will be promoted — Eagon to brigadier general, Morris to full colonel and Canterbury to lieutenant colonel.

Wreck Injuries Fatal
AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Injuries she received Sunday when an automobile crashed into a pole here were fatal Tuesday for Mrs. James Simmons, 30, who died in General Hospital.

"I hope our contract is forever," Rosenbloom said at the team's annual press party. "A better man we do not believe we can find. If he fouls up, I'll buy up his contract first thing."

Rosenbloom recalled that he said much the same thing five years ago when Ewbank quit as an assistant coach of the Cleveland Browns and joined the Colts.

"And for awhile I thought he had been here forever," he said.

Ewbank admitted the climb to the top of NFL wasn't easy. He predicted when he took over the down-trodden Colts in 1954 that he'd produce a title contender in five years. After the first season, he said he felt he may have made a mistake. In 1956 he almost was fired.

"I could have ridden the shirt-tail of Paul Brown, coach of Cleveland, since he was always 10 years ahead of the game," Ewbank said. "Now I'm glad I came and stuck it out."

Portsmouth Bus Line To Quit; New One Due

PORSCHE, Ohio (AP) — Portsmouth's only city bus line is discontinuing operations at the end of this month. But a new bus line is being started up to take its place.

Portsmouth City Lines announced it is ending its service because of a steady drop in passengers over the past five years.

William F. McIntyre, manager of the Bloomington-Normal, Ill., City Lines, said he has applied to the city and village councils of Portsmouth and suburban New Boston for a new franchise effective March 1.

Cincinnati Local To Keep Officers Opposed To Hoffa

CINCINNATI (AP) — Members of Teamsters Local 100 here have decided to keep their newly-elected officers who say frankly they are opposed to union chief James R. Hoffa.

Members balloted 649-655 Tuesday night to ratify the election, held in November.

Hoffa, who had flown here Tuesday, left before the results were announced.

Hoffa said he had come here to bring harmony to the union. It has been in a ferment since the election in which longtime officers favorable to Hoffa were defeated.

Walter Schultz, who defeated George P. Starling for president said: "We are hopeful that this will convince Mr. Hoffa not to interfere in Cincinnati Teamster affairs and to let us run our own local." The local has about 8,000 members.

The balloting was orderly except for one brief scuffle. Cincinnati Enquirer photographer Carl Bellinger was taking a picture of Schultz and new vice president Ray Culbertson when an unidentified teamster member yelled at the two men and sought to knock their heads together. Nearby police broke it up quickly.

The previous meeting called to ratify the election broke up without a vote after a shouting, fist-swinging brawl that brought out the police riot squad.

URW Hands U.S. Rubber Notice Of Contract TalksFederal League

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Formal notice to open negotiations on a contract to replace one that expires April 9 has been served on the U.S. Rubber Co. by the United Rubber Workers Union. A date and place for negotiations are expected to be selected soon.

Negotiation notices will go to other major rubber producers later. Contracts between the URW and Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and B. F. Goodrich Co. expire April 15.

The union also asked U.S. Rubber for negotiations on a supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB) agreement and pension and insurance agreements. The talks will affect some 21,000 URW members in Painesville, Ohio, and 15 other cities throughout the country.

Closer Watch Urged On Deputies, Prisoners

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Mahoning County Grand Jury has recommended that sheriff Paul J. Langley "have closer surveillance of the conduct of his deputies and prisoners."

The jury said Tuesday in a report to Judge David G. Jenkins, however, that it could find no concrete evidence that Langley had knowledge of S. Joseph (Naples being allowed special privileges while serving a six-month term of gambling charges).

A picture of Naples returning to jail on a Monday morning, accompanied by a deputy, was taken by a Youngstown Vindicator photographer and the newspaper said Naples had been on a "weekend leave."

Colts' Coach Given Bonus, 3-Year Pact

BALTIMORE (AP) — Webb Ewbank's gamble with job security has paid off handsomely.

The little coach who led the Baltimore Colts to their first National Football League title in 1958 was rewarded Tuesday night with a $25,000 bonus and a new three-year contract calling for $30,000 annually.

Carroll Rosenbloom, principal owner of the Colts, said the contract will be renegotiated each year. That means Ewbank will receive at least two years' salary in the event he is fired.

"I hope our contract is forever," Rosenbloom said at the team's annual press party. "A better man we do not believe we can find. If he fouls up, I'll buy up his contract first thing."

Rosenbloom recalled that he said much the same thing five years ago when Ewbank quit as an assistant coach of the Cleveland Browns and joined the Colts.

Odd And Interesting
By W. L. GORDON

The tailorbird, found in Asia, east India, and Africa, stitches its nest together. The nest is made of plant down, fine grass, and hair which the bird sews together by use of its slender bill with bits of silk or wool threads, or vegetable fiber. This nest is enclosed in a large leaf, which the bird sews together at the edges.

Temperature Below Normal; Snowfall Up During January

January temperatures of almost 4 degrees below normal and snowfall of almost 50 per cent above normal gave a true winter flavor to last month's weather, according to the monthly report of Edwin Copeland, U.S. weather observer at Millport.

Rainfall totaled 4.88 inches in January, almost double the normal 2.8 inches for the month. Copeland reported 1.94 inches of rain fell Jan. 21.

There were 5 clear days, 12 partly cloudy days and 14 cloudy days, making sunshine for the month total 33 per cent, compared to the normal 30 per cent.

Feb. 1 marked the half-way point for winter, Copeland said, and he is looking for milder weather than that of December and January.

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—Scientists continued to stand by here today, awaiting calm weather that would permit them to release a large balloon designed to ascend to 27 miles.

The project has been delayed for three straight days by high surface winds.

Four scientists from the University of Iowa, Washington University of St. Louis and the Atlantic Research Corp. plan to send aloft several balloons carrying instruments to probe cosmic ray intensity and other phenomena.

Ohio Township

The Executive Board of the Fairview Parent-Teacher Association met Monday night in the Fairview School.

Mrs. Ted Ryms, membership chairman, said 21 more are needed to meet the required 10 per cent increase to add a gold seal to the charter.

Mrs. Ed Ryan said she sent thank-you notes to Dan Miller and Nick Kukich for their work on the new bell honor roll memorial constructed in the school yard.

Names of township residents who served in World War II are inscribed.

Den mothers are needed for Cub Scout Pack 426, particularly in the Oglevie and Fairview areas.

The unit will sell Easter candy as a project.

Dr. William T. Rice, a member of the Rochester Hospital staff, will be the guest when the PTA observes "Founder's Day" on Feb. 19. He will narrate a film, "Warning Shadows," and hold an open discussion on "X-ray and Your Child."

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sherman were honored with a party and dinner in the Fairview Grange Hall Saturday evening on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Eighty-five friends and relatives attend, including the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Howard Dawson of Ohio Township and Mrs. Mattie Sherman of Vanport.

A summary of their 25 years, given by Mrs. Charles Richards, highlighted the program presented by Robert Dawson. Group singing followed.

The Grange presented the couple with a silver tray and their children gave them a round-trip ticket to California. Other gifts were received.

A tiered cake, baked by Mrs. Charles Brucker, centered the table surrounded by white flowers and tapers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman were married Jan. 31, 1934, in New Brighton. Sherman is master of the Grange and is employed at the Crucible Steel Co. in Midland.

The unit will meet tonight at 7:30 at the Carolina Ave. Armory for instruction on "Vehicle Driving and Maintenance" by Cpl. Mack and Spcl. 4C Carl Minor.
